Circuit Court next Monday.

There are several cases of measles in town.

Services at the Catholic Church next Sunday.

Judge George Thompson is afflicted with a swelling of the parotid glands.

Mr. W. C. Pegram, a prominent Tullahoma lawyer, was on our streets last Saturday.

Tuesday morning, March 20th.—Ice in abundance. "Come, gentle Spring, come," we're waiting for you.

"Aunt" Viney Pennington, a well-known old colored woman, died at her home in this place on Tuesday of last week.

An artist is in town taking sketches of our business and dwelling-houses for a Directory Publishing Company at Louisville, Ky.

Mrs. Stephen Carter is confined with pneumonia at Mrs. Susan Logan's, where she was taken while waiting upon her son Stephen.

The annual election of Wardens and Vestrymen for the ensuing year will be held at Trinity Church on Monday next at 10 o'clock a. m.

Levi Duncan, col., for many years Janitor at Mary Sharp College, died in Fayetteville last Saturday. His remains were brought here for interment Monday.

There will be Easter services at the Methodist Church next Sunday at 11 a. m. The pastor will preach on the "Resurrection and identity of the human body."

The Legislature has refused to "alter, amend or abolish" the present fish law, and we are glad of it. Let it be enforced to the letter, and we will soon have plenty of fish in our streams.

Little Russell Gordon, son of Mr. W. W. Gordon, had the misfortune to break both of his legs again last Saturday. This makes the twenty-ninth time, we are informed, that he has suffered from fractures of this kind.

We learn that a difficulty occurred at Pylant's saw-mill, about 4 miles from town, between James Blackwood and a man named Jeans. Blackwood struck Jeans on the head with a mallet, or maul, inflicting a dangerous wound.

We have remnants of Prints and Dress Goods, from 2 1/2 to 8 yards, which will be sold from 4 cents up. Also, other winter goods at less than cost. We want the space they occupy for Spring goods. EMBREY BROS. & CO.

A ruling of the Postoffice Department says a postmaster has the right to prohibit smoking in the lobby and enforce the observance of good order, and when necessary to call upon local authorities for assistance. Postmaster Ayers informs us that hereafter he will enforce this ruling in his office.

The Literary Society will meet to-night. We are sorry that we have no room for the program. Suffice it to say that the meeting will be an interesting one—that the readers will read, the singers sing, the performers perform, the spellers spell, the laughers laugh, and the courtiers court as they always do on such occasions.

No storm yet, and yet Mr. Wiggins said it would surely create a sensation and do much damage between the 9th and 11th of March of the present year. The sensation has been created, but not the damage has been done. And now, when the peach trees are blooming, violets peeping forth and giving their fragrance so modestly to the passing breezes, come querulous individuals to condemn Prof. Wiggins! These are the illiterate sort who show their intelligence when their little sense tells them there is a chance for them to be wiser than they are in the opinions of those who know them to be fools. You will hear many of them say, "I told you so!—Wiggins is a fool—I knew there would be no storm, and Wiggins ought to be hung." And then some fellows would, really, hang Wiggins because the terrible storm did not come. And if it had come, those same fellows would have been the first ones to worship him as a savior and crucify all who did not believe in the aforesaid Wiggins. But we say unto them: Wait a year or two longer and then see if the storm does not come. "Selah."

Decherd Items.

Several gentlemen from Indiana and Ohio have been prospecting in our neighborhood recently, with a view of making purchases, if they can find suitable locations. If they are the right kind of men we will give them a hearty welcome.

The wheat crops in this neighborhood are looking quite promising, especially where are good stands.

The matrimonial ball keeps rolling. On Tuesday evening, the 14th inst., at the residence of the bride's parents in Decherd, Mr. John C. Willard, of Cowan, was united in marriage to Miss Mollie Whitt, daughter of Anderson Whitt, Esq. W. W. Martin performed the matrimonial ceremony.

The Good Templars Lodge here is on the increase.

Rev. Mr. Wood preached to an attentive congregation yesterday. His sermon was directed to the young, and was quite interesting.

Decherd, Tenn., March 19th.

Slatter, of the Winchester Home Journal, is opposed to the present railroad commission bill proposed by the legislative caucus. We want to see the dime benefit to the people before the dollar cost is voted out of the people's pocket to carry on the commission. —[Murfreesboro Free Press.

Exactly! We agree with our brother of the Free Press when he says, "We want to see the dime benefit to the people before the dollar cost is voted out of the people's pocket to carry on the commission."

If we had space in the Home Journal we would utilize that space for the publication of two foolish bills before the Legislature—one entitled, "To Prevent Discrimination"; the other entitled, "The Railroad Commission Bill." The very reading of the foolish "bills" would convince any sensible man that any member of the Legislature who would vote for the passage of one (or, both) of them, was, intellectually, a fool, and unfitted, mentally, to represent even himself, much less a large number of constituents. If this "Railroad Commission Bill" should become a law we will then be taxed to the amount of $7,500 in order to pay three Commissioners—one from each of the three divisions of our State. Each one of the Commissioners is to receive $2,500 per annum, but before he enters upon his duty he must subscribe to the following oath:

"I, _____, do solemnly swear that I am not now, nor will be during my term of office, connected with any railroad company as officer, agent, employee, or in any other capacity; that I am not now, nor will I be during my term of office, directly or indirectly interested in the stock, bonds or other securities or property of any railroad company; that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Tennessee; and that I will truly, honestly and faithfully discharge the duties of the office of Commissioner of Railroads to the best of my ability."

Now, if there is any man of common sense in Tennessee who would not take that oath as freely as we would take a drink of water, (if thirsty,) he is a lunatic beyond peradventure. But, what will you all do, Messrs. Commissioners? Why, you must simply take complete control of the railroads. Your assertions will be sufficient to rule or ruin them. You are to say how much they shall charge, whether they extort or not, &c. Under this abominable "ad-captandum-vulgus" effort of our holy Representatives, "so-called," to do something, you can exercise a legal right which would stink in the nostrils of morality. Why, Messrs. Representatives, if we made a bad bargain in granting State aid to the railroads we ought to stand to that bargain like men. If the railroads are charging for passenger fare only a little more than half they could charge under their charters; and if they are equally liberal as to freights, and trying to get all the "through" freights they can in order to make local freight lower, why should we grumble—who are so dependent upon railroads? But the Home Journal (which is not bought) wants you to consider another thing, and that is, the sacredness of contracts and Constitutions. If you are men of sense you have certainly read the letters of "Janus," who uttered principles worthy of the consideration of posterity for millions of years to come. He said: "Let me exhort and conjure you, never to suffer an invasion of your political constitution, however minute the instance may appear, to pass by, without a determined, persevering resistance. One precedent creates another. They soon accumulate and constitute law. What yesterday was fact, to-day is doctrine. Examples are supposed to justify the most dangerous measures, and where they do not suit exactly the defect is supplied by analogy. Be assured that the laws, which protect us in our civil rights, grow out of our Constitution, and they must fall or flourish with it."

And what does Macaulay say? In his first volume of his beautiful and excellent History of England, he says: "It is evidently our wisdom to keep all the constitutional checks on misgovernment in the highest state of efficiency, to watch with jealousy the first beginnings of encroachment, and never to suffer irregularities, even when harmless in themselves, to pass unchallenged, lest they acquire the force of precedents."

To these quotations it would seem unnecessary for us to add a word to men of sense. But there are very many who, careless of the "doings" of our Legislature, do not know what may be the result of the infractions which would be made by the passage of this bill to create a Railroad Commission. It would, in our belief, be a precedent to having Commissions for the regulating of wholesale and retail houses, and, in fact, all business. As long as the railroads do not violate their charters, and pay the taxes assessed upon them, they do all they are bound under law to do, and the appointment of a Commission to regulate their charges is not only a flagrant insult to the roads, but a most flagrant outrage upon Constitutional law and chartered rights. It is, in fact, a huge stride towards Communism, and it almost shakes our faith in Republican government when we see such dirty appeals made to the voters as were made last year by all three of the parties seeking power in this State. It appeared to us that the Democratic, Greenback and Republican parties—all—wanted to win votes by spitting at the confiscation of railroads.

We have been writing, more or less, these twenty-five years, for newspapers. We have written a tremendous amount of "stuff," and only a few "good things"—that is, good in "our own" estimation. But if we had written the subjoined we would have been as willing to die as was the father of Joseph after he had seen once more the beloved boy he thought had been devoured by wild beasts. Read it! Read it! Yes,—read it!

"It is strange how closely people read the papers. We never say anything that anybody don't like but what we soon hear of it, and everybody tells us about it. But, if once in a while we happen to say a good thing, we never hear of that; nobody seems to notice that. We may pay some man a dozen compliments, and give him a dozen puffs, and he takes it as a tribute to his greatness and never thinks it does him any good. But if we happen to say something that this very man don't like, or something that he imagines reflects on him or his character, see how quickly he flies up and gets mad about it. All our evil is duly charged to us, but we never, apparently, get any credit for what good we do."

Our Charter Abolished.

The following is the act of the Legislature repealing our charter:

HOUSE BILL NO. 410.

A bill entitled An Act to repeal the act of incorporation of the inhabitants of the town of Winchester, in the county of Franklin.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee, that all except the last section (No. 13) of an act passed October the 20th, in the year eighteen hundred and twenty-one (1821), entitled an act to incorporate the inhabitants of the town of Winchester, in the county of Franklin, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted, that all other laws pertaining to the same subject and applicable to the same town (Winchester) are hereby annulled.

Sec. 3. Be it further enacted, that this act shall take effect and be enforced on and after the first day of January, in the year 1884.

Passed March 13, 1883.

W. L. LEIDENWOOD, Speaker of House of Representatives.

B. F. ALEXANDER, Speaker of the Senate.

Approved March 14, 1883.

WM. B. BATE, Governor.

I. D. A. NUNN, Secretary of the State of Tennessee, certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an act passed by the Forty-third General Assembly of the State of Tennessee.

D. A. NUNN, Secretary of State.

NEW

Wagon and Carriage Shop.

We have opened a Wagon and Carriage Shop at Knapp's old stand in Winchester, and propose to do all kinds of work in our line as neatly and cheaply as can be done anywhere. Strict attention will be given to repairing. We have a first-class blacksmith, who, in addition to other work, will make a specialty of horse-drawing.

All kinds of machinery repaired in best style, cheap.

J. KESLING & B. STUPER, Jan. 31, 1883.

Our Cash Argument REWARDED!

Under our cash system we have, in three months, been compelled to move to a larger store-house and employ extra force in order to meet the demands of our trade.

We don't claim to sell all the goods that are sold here, but we will say we will make your friends treat you right. Even an enemy is your friend if he makes your friend treat you right. Then how great a friend treat your friend who treats you right without making? Did you buy for $14 hundred pounds of choice sugar, ten pounds of choice coffee, or 4-4 full weight domestic at 6c, or best points at 6c, before we put all this stuff in your hands? Suppose you permit Harry to go to your smoke-house and take one of your most choice hams every week—how long will it be before you would have to sell the remainder at double its value to make good your loss? This suits our case exactly. Harry comes every day—there are many Harrys. Suppose we load him down (not up) with 10 pound coffee and 14-pound sugar for $1. For $1? Oh, no, but for the promise of $1. No, sir; we can't stand it, but pass him over to our neighbors who take chances on all alike with only one consolation—that is, if Harry don't pay, we can't Dick will.

We don't pretend to say all who ask for credit will not pay. We admit that Tom and Dick will pay, and that Harry will not. We are always busy, and to save us we can't know Harry from Tom and Dick. He is as good-looking, and more glib on the tongue.

Now to the point: Gentlemen, two-thirds of your friends are other men, and all the Harrys, &c. This loss don't fall on Smith, Latham, or Mr. —, but the people foot the whole bill.

We keep a full line of Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, &c., also a general stock of merchandise, and give the highest market price for barter of all kinds.

Where send our sons and daughters? THE WINCHESTER NORMAL

OFFERS SUPERIOR ADVANTAGES IN English, Mathematics, Natural Science, Philosophy, Primary Studies, Latin and German, History and Literature, Music and Art, Book-keeping, Penmanship, Theory and Practice of Teaching.

THE FIFTH ANNUAL SESSION

Begins August 29, (Tuesday) 1883. The outlook for the future is full of promise. The enrollment was 347 the past year. The growth from the first has been steady and healthy, and today the Normal is the largest school of its age in Tennessee.

A FULL FACULTY

Of earnest, experienced, and successful teachers are employed. Besides the seven regular teachers, several assistants, full of vigor and enthusiasm, render valuable help.

Dr. Joseph Baldwin, author of School Management, says of the President, J. W. Terrill: "As a teacher and manager, he has few equals. His school at Huntsville impressed me as the best I had ever visited."

Dr. W. L. Bellwell, of William Jewell College, Mo., says: "Few men of his age in Missouri, or the West, have won and sustained a higher reputation as a successful, practical teacher and College President than Mr. Terrill."

Prof. W. P. Nason, President of North Missouri Normal, says: "He is an educator of the very first rank; that as a preceptor and teacher he has very few equals."

Prof. R. A. Clark is a native of Tennessee and a Christian gentleman of the highest type. He has studied and taught for twelve years in the town of Winchester, and his work and success in the classroom show him today one of the most accomplished teachers in Tennessee. While he is a capable man and teacher, and no graduate, yet none of our college-bred teachers will deny question or test his ability and skill by comparing, or comparing results, with him. Free from the restraints of the old colleges he has readily accepted natural, or Normal, methods.

Miss Mattie Edill graduated in Mary Sharp College in 1875, and that institution honored her with a position as teacher, giving to her work and scholarship much praise. Since then she has spent two years in the Normal preparing herself for the grand work of teaching. She is a lady of fine ability, and an indefatigable student and worker. Her fine social qualities, her long training in Theory and Art of teaching, her scholarship, and her experience in actual work of the school-room, all combine to make her a very superior teacher. Her fitness, both natural and acquired, will be admitted by those who witness her work.

Mrs. Colie Terrill, Principal of Preparatory Department, has had an experience of twelve years in teaching primary branches and little children. Only after years of arduous study and training did she enter upon this work. Since 1876 she has taught in Winchester, and it will be admitted by all that she has lifted Primary Teaching to a higher plane of excellence, thus conferring lasting benefits on our youth and schools. In Primary Work she is without a peer, not only in Winchester, but, we believe, in this portion of the State.

Miss Bessie Beauchamp, of Texas, takes the place vacated by Prof. Wm. McIlhenny. She has several years' experience as a teacher. We assure our patrons and students that no mistake has been made in her selection. She was for years a student of President Terrill's in Missouri.

Miss Little Bledsoe has taught the Music the past two years, and her success has warranted the Faculty in purchasing new instruments throughout for her work in future. In this Department she will compare favorably with teachers of other schools.

Miss Mamie French takes charge of an Art School in the Normal. This is a new and valuable feature to which we attach great importance. She is well qualified, and comes to make permanent and successful this Department of the school.

Miss Maud Terrill, well known to the students and friends of the Normal, will teach half her time in the various Departments, as may be needed.

Chancery Sales, For April 2, 1883.

Jno. R. Beasley vs. Robinson Machine Works et al.

By virtue of a decree of the Chancery Court of Franklin county, Tenn., pronounced at its January Term, 1883, in above cause, I will, on Monday, April 2d, 1883, at the Court-house door in Winchester, Tenn., sell to the highest bidder, for cash, a tract of land containing 72 acres, more or less, situated in the 4th civil district of said county, and attached in the above cause as the property of the Robinson Machine Works.

A description of said lands will be given on day of sale.

This March 5th, 1883, CLEM. ARLEDGE, C. & M. mar7-tds

Elk River Mills.

Headquarters for the Milling Public of Franklin and Adjoining Counties.

These Mills (known as Hinton Mills) are situated on Elk River, three miles north of Winchester, and three miles west of Decherd. They are given up to have the BEST MANUFACTURING of any Cotton Mills in the country. Having every thing newly fitted up from wheels to bolts, and having three runs on wheat and one on corn enables us to always be up with our work, with plenty of water to spare. You always get your grinding—no waiting until to-morrow. Our accommodations are equalled by no Mills in the country. With Mr. Wm. M. Tait as miller, our Mills turn out Flour and Meal excelled by none. Our merchant work is equal to that of any Mill. Orders for Flour and Meal promptly filled. We thank the public for a liberal patronage since starting, and hope to be able to merit a more liberal one as we do the work.

Non-Resident Notice.

In Circuit Court of Franklin County, Tennessee.

(Bill for Divorce.)

Emma D. Atkins vs. Wm. Atkins.

In this cause it appearing to the satisfaction of the Court from the bill of complaint, which is sworn to, that the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Tennessee, in that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon him.

It is therefore ordered by me that publication be made for four consecutive weeks in the Home Journal, published in Winchester, Tennessee, requiring said non-resident defendant to appear at the next term of the Circuit Court for Franklin county, at the Court-house in Winchester, Tenn., on the 4th Monday in March, 1883, and make defense to said bill, or the same will be taken for confessed, and set for hearing ex-parte as to him.
